1 Version 1.0.1 – 2025-01-21

Documentation Enhancement & Visual Redesign Update

This update focuses on comprehensive improvements to legal documentation and user experience. All changes are documentation-only with no modifications to core functionality.

Fully backward compatible with version 1.0.0.

1.1 Enhanced Legal Documentation

EULA.txt (v1.0 → v1.0.1)

- Added Section 6.1 “Specific Platform Notice” with explicit platform warnings
- Named specific platforms: YouTube, Instagram, TikTok, Netflix, Hulu, Disney+, Facebook, Twitter/X
- Clarified restrictions for each platform with detailed explanations
- Added “Criminal prosecution in severe cases” to legal consequences
- Enhanced user responsibility clauses with “If uncertain, DO NOT download” guidance
- Strengthened platform Terms of Service compliance section

README.txt (v1.0 → v1.1)

- Added prominent platform restrictions list at the top of the document
- Created “Prohibited Use Cases — DO NOT USE FOR” section with concrete examples
- Added five-question “Before Every Download” decision checklist:
 1. Do I own this content or have I uploaded it myself?
 2. Does the platform’s Terms of Service allow downloading?
 3. Do I have written permission from the copyright holder?
 4. Is this content under Creative Commons or Public Domain?
 5. Would downloading this violate any laws or agreements?
- Added comprehensive “Legal Consequences” section outlining specific outcomes
- Restructured platform compatibility section into “Prohibit” versus “Permit” lists
- Enhanced LGPL compliance with source references for yt-dlp and FFmpeg
- Added document version history tracking

UserManual-v2.html (v1.1 → v1.3)

- Enhanced “Important Legal Notice” with explicit platform lists
- Expanded FAQ sections with warning boxes and decision guidance
- Added visual legal examples:
 - Legal examples (5 scenarios)
 - Illegal examples (6 scenarios)

- Expanded best practices for legal compliance from 6 to 9 guidelines
- Added version history tracking to the manual
